STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, MARCH 27, 1903. 8 A M

NO. 8

Henry M. Bosworth, of Lexington.

The above is a fair likeness of Mr. Henry M. Bosworth, Kentucky's next treasurer. This splendid democrat made Fayette county the best sheriff she ever had and we have every reason to believe that he will fill the office of treasurer as well. We speak of him as the next state treasurer because we believe that he is going to win the nomination, for he has friends in every portion of this grand old Commonwealth who will see that he comes under the string first in the primary of May 9. There is no better democrat nor finer gentleman in the state than Mr. Bosworth and that he would make an admirable treasurer, none who know him will doubt. Following are extracts written by gentlemen who know Mr. Bosworth. Read them and you will get a pretty good idea of the kind of man he is:

It is a pleasure for us to bring before the public the name of such a noble democrat as Henry Bosworth, of Lexington, Fayette county, as a candidate for the office of State treasurer. He is a democratic son of the old school and should be favored with the nomination. He asks the voters to consider his candidacy in the primary election on May 9, this year. Mr. Bosworth is a lion hearted democrat and is as brave and fearless as they make them. He has always been in the democratic ranks and always at the front in battle. He is the ex sheriff of Fayette county and was an intimate friend of the late Wm. Goebel and was always selected by Goebel as his lieutenant in the time of trouble in the democratic ranks.

When Gov. Goebel fell he looked at his beloved leader—tears streaming from his eyes, then with the same determination that always characterized him as a man of power and decision he began to hunt for the assassins of the "noble dead."

Those were "times that tried men's souls"—when to be an active, aggressive democrat in and around Frankfort meant to walk in constant peril of the assassin's deadly bullet. Mr. Bosworth was a man for the time and when the arch conspirator, Caleb Powers, had eluded the officers at Frankfort and was fleeing to the mountains (where he would have forever been safe as his brother John)—it was then that the sheriff at the head of his deputies marched into the car and in the face of assassins, protectors of assassins and what seemed certain death, dragged Powers and Capt. Davis out and landed them in the Fayette county jail—thus making the arrest of the arch fiend and instigator of the darkest and most damnable conspiracy of which American history holds record. For these arrests he was offered $1,500, which he refused and answered: "I only regret that I can not and have not done more to avenge the death of my friend and the friend of the people. Such acts as these are rare and make men heroes."

Mr. Bosworth is a man of high moral character, integrity and intellect and one of the brightest men in the State. He has a record that is far above reproach and he modestly asks the voters to nominate him as their State treasurer and the Courier predicts that they will make no mistake in choosing him.—Hickman Courier.

Henry M. Bosworth, of Fayette county, better known as "Genial Henry," is a candidate for the office of State Treasurer, subject to the action of the State democratic primary May 9th, 1903, and if true merit, unquestioned ability and unswerving loyalty to Democratic principles count for anything, then he should receive an overwhelming majority. Though an active worker in the Democratic party since he reached his majority, Mr. Bosworth has never held office but once. He was elected Sheriff of Fayette county in 1897 when the democratic ticket was opposed by a fusion ticket, resulting in one of the fiercest political battles ever waged in the State of Kentucky. During his term of office as sheriff, Mr. Bosworth, assisted by a first efficient set of deputies, performed the duties devolving upon him with signal abilities and marked success. At all times courteous and affable, yet uncompromising when it came to the protection of the people's interest, and collection and disbursement of the public money.

With an untarnished record as officer, faithful under all circumstances to the democratic party, its platform and its nominees, loyal to his friends even unto a fault, we cannot see how any democrat could hesitate not only to vote for—but to use his influence for Henry M. Bosworth for the office of State Treasurer.—Lexington Daily Democrat

Grip Remedies In Great Demand

When colds and grip are prevalent the quickest and surest remedies are in great demand. Mr. Joseph D. Williams, of McDuff, Va., says he was cured of a very deep and lasting attack of la grippe by using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy after trying several other preparations with no effect. For sale by Craig & Hocker.

HUSTONVILLE.

We are glad to report that grip is disappearing from our community and the parties reported ill from it in our last are convalescing with the exception of Mrs. Sam Reid, whose condition is unimproved. Mr. Leslie Reid is at home to remain during his mother's illness.

J. W. Lockridge & Co., are moving one of their mills from near Merrimac to Cumberland Falls Station, where they have a crew of 25 or 30 men working on their 1,000 acres of fine timber, tributary to that station. They have a contract for one million staves at prosperity prices and are hustling early and late to secure a premium for early delivery.

Miss Anna Reid has returned from a delightful 10-days' visit to friends and relatives in Louisville. Miss Alice Drye, the artistic builder of up-to-the-minute millinery, formerly of our city, but now of Lebanon, spent several days with relatives here this week. D. J. Newburn has gone to Columbus, Miss., in the interest of his nursery company. He will return in time to accommodate the trade in Central Kentucky.

The Anderson & Lane Vaudeville Combination is billed for Alcorn's Opera House Friday and Saturday nights Friday for the whites and Saturday night for Negroes. This lot is the cream of Pulaski's stock and a great deal of time and care was spent in collecting them.

By special invitation, for which we are grateful, the writer was shown a portion of the imported millinery to be on exhibition at the Charles Wheeler Emporium April 9 and 10. To say that there are some of the most beautiful creations of the milliner's art and in exclusive styles that cannot and others that will not be duplicated, that was ever exhibited in our city, is putting the plain facts mildly. France, the fashion plate for the world, is undoubtedly our friend and has evidenced her friendship not alone in the entanglement of the Venezuelan affair, but also in showing us favor over other nations in consignments of her most attractive millinery to adorn the handsome belles not only of Kentucky but even those of dear old Lincoln.

The Finch Club met with Miss Pearl Rout Friday evening. Miss Lena Yowell is visiting friends in Bradfordsville. A. B. C. Diawiddle was at home from his store at Bradfordsville. ## Who Shall Fill It?

There should be but one question to consider in deciding where to take your Prescriptions, and that is: Where are the best Drugs and most accurate compounding to be had? No motive or influence should be allowed to weigh against it. When you do this we shall expect to serve you. When we fill your prescription every drug that enters into it has the exact potency the physician desires. Our charges are just as satisfactory as our service.
